When should I apply for ESTA?

ESTA is quicker to process and should take less than 72 hours, however, it is advisable to apply now so that if you are refused ESTA there is still time to obtain a visa.

When should I apply for a visa?

- If you are planning to travel in January you should submit your application before the end of November and it is advisable to apply as soon as possible to avoid disappointment.
- Visa processing times may be slower at this time of year because of all the holidays.

Does my trip qualify for ESTA?

- The purpose of the trip must be business or pleasure
- The duration of the trip must be less than 90 days
- You must be travelling with a signatory VWP carrier (air or sea) – check the list online:

Passport requirements (1)

- It must have at least 6 months validity remaining
This is required for either ESTA or a visa.
- It must be machine-readable (it will have two lines of letters, numbers and chevrons (<<<) at the bottom of the photo page)

If it is not machine readable, you can either obtain a new one that is, or apply for a visa instead.

Passport requirements (2)

- It must have a digital photo (printed on, not glued or laminated)

If your passport does not have a digital photo, you can still apply for ESTA if:

- Your country joined the Visa Waiver Program before 2008 and you have a valid machine readable passport issued before 26/10/05

or

- You have an e-Passport with a biometric chip

If your passport does not meet the above requirements, you will need a visa.

Passport requirements (3)

- It must be an electronic passport with a digital chip containing biometric data.

It would display this symbol:

Emergency or temporary passports must still be electronic passports.

Could I be ineligible for ESTA? (1)

You will be ineligible if:

- you have ever been cautioned or arrested, even if this did not result in a criminal conviction, (the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act does not apply so even a spent conviction counts)
- you have a serious communicable illness; Cholera, Diphtheria, Plague, Smallpox, Yellow Fever, Viral Hemorrhagic Fevers, including Ebola, Lassa, Marburg, Crimean-Congo, Gonorrhoea, Granuloma inguinale, Leprosy, infectious Lymphogranuloma venereum, Syphilis (infectious stage) and Tuberculosis (active).

If you have previously had one of these that has been treated, you will need medical evidence that it is no longer infectious.

Could I be ineligible for ESTA? (2)

You will be ineligible if:

- you have previously been refused admission to the US, or deported from the US, or have previously overstayed on the Visa Waiver Programme (ESTA).
- you have travelled to or been present in Iran, Iraq, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, or Yemen on or after 01/03/11. There are some exceptions to this for example where this was on duty as a VWP government employee or in military service for a VWP country amongst others – seek advice if unsure.

I already have ESTA, must I re-apply?

- If you are issued a new passport
- If you change your name
- If you change your gender
- If your country of citizenship changes
- If your responses to any of the “yes” or “no” application questions should change
- After 2 years ESTA validity expires

How do I apply for ESTA?

The application is online. Go to: <https://esta.cbp.dhs.gov/esta/>

You will be asked for:

- Contact details
- Passport details
- Emergency contact
- Details of forwarding travel (if transiting)
- Disclosure of health, criminal record and previous travel
- Bank details (to make the application fee payment)

How do I find out if I am approved?

You will not receive an email. You have to log in online:

<https://www.esta-registration.co.uk>

Select “Check ESTA Status”. You will need your application number, passport number, and date of birth.

Your status will show as either:

- Authorization Approved - Print this for your own records but you don't need to present a hard copy when travelling.
- Travel Not Authorized - You will need to obtain a visa.
- Authorization Pending - Check again later.

How much does it cost?

ESTA costs $14

- The processing fee is $4 but if you are approved you also pay a $10 authorisation fee.
- If your application is refused, the authorisation fee is refunded, but then you'll need a visa.

A visa costs $160

- This is non refundable.

Is it worth applying via an agent?

No. These services are not endorsed by or associated with the U.S. government.

- They can't guarantee a successful application
- They can't make the processing time any faster
- Their fees increase the cost of applying
- They are unnecessary because all the information you need to apply is available online.

Does ESTA approval guarantee admission to the US?

No. This just means that you are eligible to travel to the United States under the Visa Waiver Program.

Upon arrival at the port of entry in the United States you will be inspected by a Customs and Border Protection Officer, who will determine whether you may be allowed to enter the USA.

You should ensure you have full documentation in your hand luggage to satisfy them of your intentions.

What documents should I provide?

- ESTA Application number (carry a print out of approval)
- Itinerary for the whole trip
- Bank statements or Traveller's Cheques
- Accommodation booking(s)
- Return flight booking
- Travel Insurance
 - (Worldwide cover from a UK provider – NOT provided by DMU)
- Evidence of ties to the UK (e.g. tenancy, tuition fees paid)
- DMU Enrolment Letter (from Gateway House)

How much money is required?

- There is no guidance for applicants about how much money is needed for a successful application.
- This may be assessed by the Customs and Border Protection Officer. Be prepared to demonstrate possession of, or access to, a sufficient amount of funds to cover all expenses for the entire trip.
- If you are receiving sponsorship or money from your parents, provide a letter to verify this.

If I am refused, can I appeal?

No. There's no appeals process for ESTA or visitor visa refusals.

- If ESTA is refused you will not be told why so it may be difficult to identify the problem. You must not provide false information or withhold anything to obtain approval dishonestly. Re-applying with different answers may appear dishonest and result in refusal. You can apply for a visa instead.
- If you misunderstood a question or made a mistake in the ESTA application, you may be able to get help to rectify this; go to <https://help.cbp.gov/> and select "Ask a Question" to explain why you made the error and ask if anything can be done. You may be unable to re-apply.
- If a visa is refused, you cannot appeal, but you can re-apply.

Is there any advantage of a visa?

Yes, visas do have some advantages over the ESTA:

- Validity for up to 10 years as opposed to 2 with ESTA
- the option to stay in the USA for up to 6 months at a time (as opposed to 90 days under ESTA)
- Visa holders may also apply to extend their stay beyond six months or switch to a different visa while in America (neither of which is allowed under ESTA)

Which visa?

You must check that the activities you intend to undertake during your visit are permitted under the category you are applying for.

- B1: Business
 - e.g. attending an educational conference
- B2: Tourism
 - e.g. short recreational courses not part of a degree

What will the visa duration be?

- Standard visitor visas are issued for up to 6 months.
- Some nationalities may get longer if their country has a reciprocal agreement e.g. India.
- If you are applying for the first time you will usually get the minimum period of validity, but if you have previously applied successfully and kept to the rules of that visa, then you may get the maximum.

What activities are not permitted?

- study
- employment
- paid performances (or for a paying audience)
- arrival as a crewmember on a ship or aircraft
- work as foreign press, radio, film, journalists, and other information media
- permanent residence in the United States

- This is assessed by the interviewer. Be prepared to demonstrate possession of or access to a sufficient amount of funds to cover all expenses for the entire trip. It may help if large expenses are paid before you apply for the visa but there is no guarantee you will get the visa so read the terms and conditions carefully to avoid losing money if you have to cancel.

What else should I consider?

- You may need to have been living in the UK for 6 months before you can get travel insurance so check before you book or you may lose your deposit.
- Take a photo of your application reference as you need this to get back into your application
- Processing times are usually around a week, but if additional administrative processing is needed this could add around another 60 days.

What will the interviewer ask me?

- The interviewer may not ask for any documents. It is a credibility-style interview, which means it is a test of how genuine a visitor you seem to be, and your trustworthiness to abide by the limitations of the visa.
- Familiarise yourself with the itinerary
- Make sure you know what is allowed and prohibited
- Be clear about your intention to exit the US on time
- Answer confidently and offer evidence if possible
