

Oluwatobi Adeyemo

Black and Minority Ethnic Representative

About me

My name is Tobi Adeyemo and I am a 2nd year Human resource management student.

My interests include:

Going to the gym (The love of my life)

Going out and meeting friends

Why I am going for this role:

As a black male in further education it is of great importance to me that issues relating to black and ethnic minority groups are given the relevant attention it deserves. The role of BME officer provides a stepping stone for this to be possible. Prior to running for this position, I considered what my goals are as well as how realistic they are. Working alongside black ethnic minority groups as well as the student union makes them achievable.

My policies include:

Underrepresentation: I believe BME students are underrepresented in higher roles within the university and I would try my best to promote roles amongst BME students.

Attention to BME students: I will try and work closely with other societies such as the ACS (African and Caribbean society) by holding cultural appreciation days within the year to celebrate our culture within the university.

'The TALKS' I believe BME students need to have positive representation in university life. I would ensure that guest speakers come in for talks around leadership, confidence and motivation.

I am a dedicated, focused and approachable person who wants YOUR voice to be heard.
